I for one, feel that the justice dept. has sold out the american people in dealing with Micro Soft. Despite what the judge did or did not do, Micro Soft is guilty as sin in being a true anti competative company. They should be made to split the company, or provide an operating system that is not contaminated with everything else they have added to control the market. They have run a lot of small company's out of business. I would like to be able to purchase an operating system without all the MICROSOFT only add on's, and not have it crash because I want to use some one else's soft ware for applications.
